

The 1st pic is one of the designs styles you will doing. Tank and bottoms. Exact style is TBD. I also know you will be modeling a sleep gown cut around your boobs so don't hide those

Your legs, hips and chest won the day this week

The black tank is a body suit so I wouldn't have to wear the shorts in it

There is a shorts sleep set we are doing so do include the shorts as one

Ok ✓

All those work the shorts may cover to much. Sorry 😊

But send many including those

You will have to do a panty style bottom your cheeks and hips are key. Here is one of the designs being considered for you

Start shooting and don't be frowning if your face is shown

So smile or just straight face

Yes like there website

Their

And be comfortable it's a women's fashion show/ event and these are women's designers. Everyone has seen what you have so own it!

Also until the show happens like I told you before it's all confidential. Brands are very protective

Also you get to keep the wardrobe. 😊

What email do you want me to send the measurement guide?

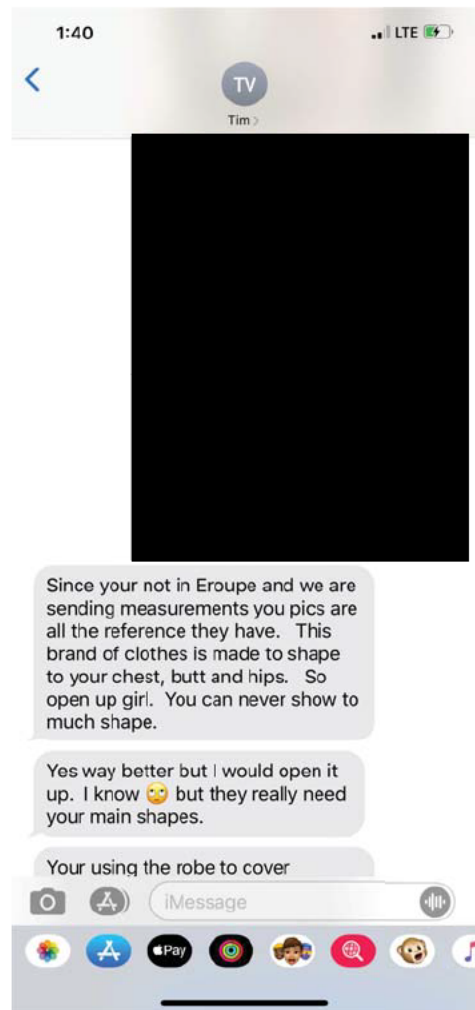

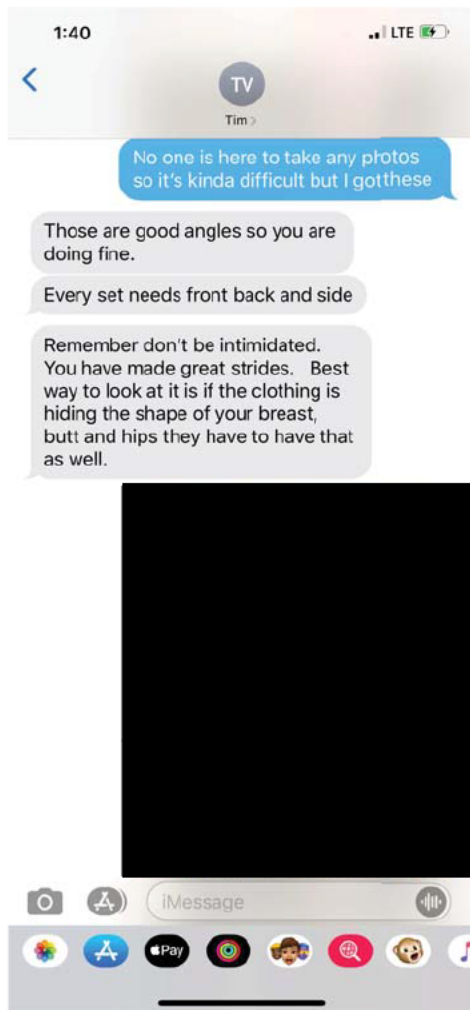

Alesia wells cheer?

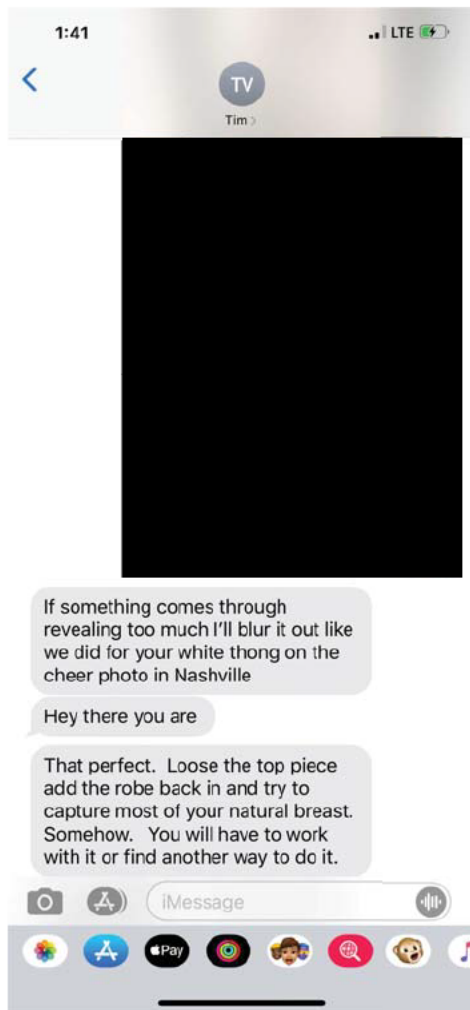

Alesia. My phone is undoing all my typing

Alexis.wells753@topper.wku.edu

If something comes through revealing too much I'll blur it out like we did for your white thong on the cheer photo in Nashville

Hey there you are

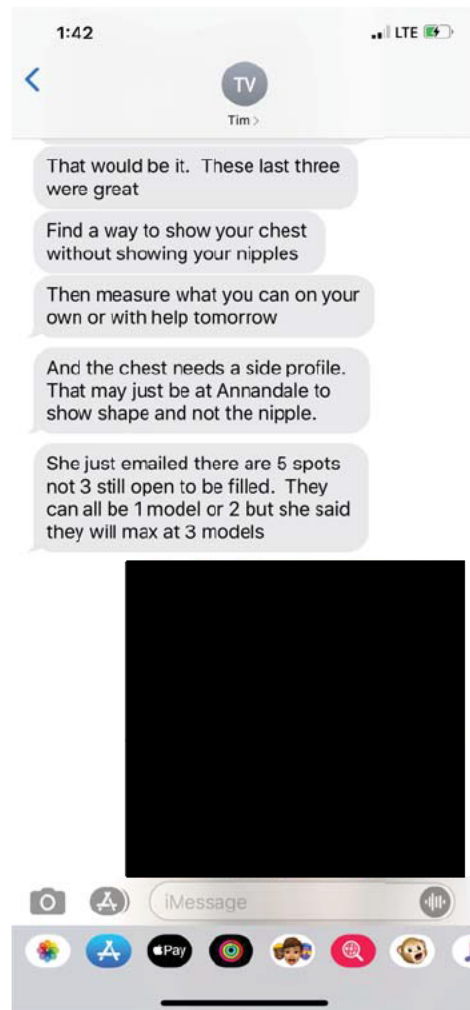

That perfect. Loose the top piece add the robe back in and try to capture most of your natural breast. Somehow. You will have to work with it or find another way to do it.

Perfect. Now do the side without the robe but turn away so only the full shape too to bottom is seen. That's the last one.

I know this was probably uncomfortable but that why I talked to you about forgetting that and move forward.

Measurements. Get what you can for now and I'll let you know if they need something else

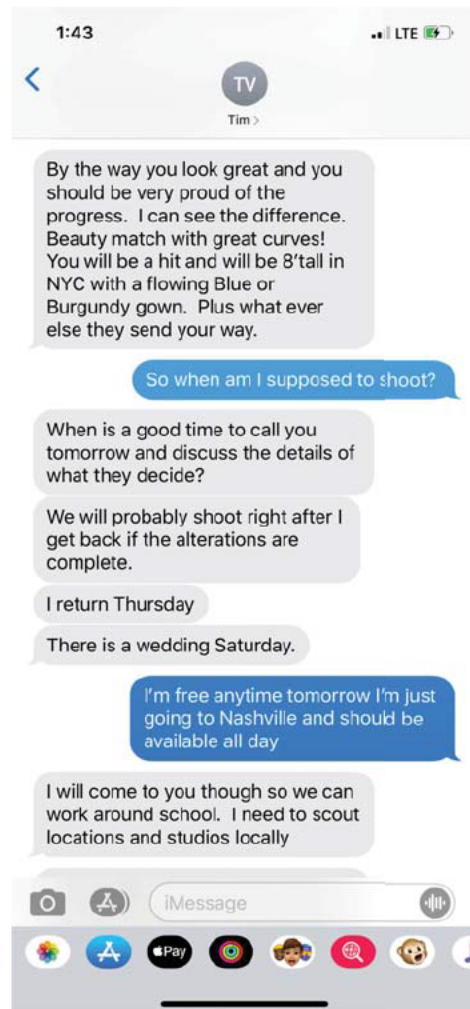

That would be it. These last three were great

Find a way to show your chest without showing your nipples

Then measure what you can on your own or with help tomorrow

And the chest needs a side profile. That may just be at Annandale to show shape and not the nipple.

She just emailed there are 5 spots not 3 still open to be filled. They can all be 1 model or 2 but she said they will max at 3 models

By the way you look great and you should be very proud of the progress. I can see the difference. Beauty match with great curves! You will be a hit and will be B'tail in NYC with a flowing Blue or Burgundy gown. Plus what ever else they send your way.

So when am I supposed to shoot?

When is a good time to call you tomorrow and discuss the details of what they decide?

We will probably shoot right after I get back if the alterations are complete.

I return Thursday

There is a wedding Saturday.

I'm free anytime tomorrow I'm just going to Nashville and should be available all day

I will come to you though so we can work around school. I need to scout locations and studios locally
